Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 11 December 2006.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

DETAILED ACTION

The Final Office Action filed on 09/01/2006 is hereby withdrawn. A new Office Action is included herewith.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Baranowski et al. (U.S. Patent No. 7,128,204).

Baranowski et al. '204 disclose a unit feeder per claimed invention. The unit comprises a hopper 100 (Figures 2-6, 8, and 9). The hopper comprises a first axis of rotation and plurality of equally spaced radial feed channels (Figures 2-6, 8, and 9) that rotate about said first axis. Each feed channel comprises a longitudinal second axis that forms an angle other than 90 ° with a reference plane perpendicular to the first axis. The second axis intersects the first axis. Since Baranowski et al. '204 anticipate all claimed structural elements, it is inherent that the unit is capable of feeding capsules onto a machine for filling capsules.

Baranowski et al. '204 unit comprises plurality of supporting bars/ridges connected to said hopper. Each supporting bar/ridge has a least two feed channels, i.e. one on each side of the ridge. Each supporting bar/ridge has a longitudinal plane of symmetry containing the first axis.

The feed channels of each supporting bar/ridge are positioned with said respective second axes substantially parallel to one another and to the longitudinal plane of symmetry.

Baranowski et al. '204 unit comprises feed channels and supporting bars/ridges that converge toward the longitudinal plane of symmetry.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 8-15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

4. Additional references made of record and not relied upon are considered to be of interest to applicant's disclosure: see attached USPTO Form 892.
